

SCHOOL OF ADVANCED MANUFACTURING & TRANSPORTATION TECHNOLOGY

The School of Advanced Manufacturing and Transportation Technology at Greenville Technical College provides classes for over 600 credit and non-credit students annually to include dual-enrolled high school students. The school offers the Associate in Applied Science Degree and Certificate in Applied Science credentials. The school offers the Bachelor of Applied Science Degree, the Associate in Applied Science Degree and Certificate in Applied Science credentials. Ten departments are part of this school:

- Advanced Manufacturing Technology
- Automotive Technology
- Auto Body Repair
- Aircraft Maintenance Technology
- Air Conditioning/Refrigeration Technology
- CNC (Computer Numerical Control) / Machine Tool
- Diesel Equipment Technology
- Industrial Electricity
- Mechatronics
- Welding

Uniquely, the school offers many experiential learning opportunities through internships, apprenticeships and tech-scholar programs with local industry, and the aircraft maintenance technology program has a partnership with the SC National Guard. The automotive technology Associate in Applied Science programs and the Diesel Equipment Technology certificate program hold programmatic accreditation through the ASE Education Foundation. Two certificate programs are accredited by HVAC Excellence: Air Conditioning/Refrigeration Technician and Beginning Electricity & Refrigeration. The aircraft maintenance technology program is approved by the Federal Aviation Administration.

Classes for these departments are taught by 55 full-time faculty and additional adjunct faculty members. Uniquely, the school offers many experiential learning opportunities through internships, apprenticeships and tech-scholar programs with local industry, as well as intensive hands-on learning opportunities within the Center for Manufacturing Innovation.

The Advanced Manufacturing Technology applied bachelor degree is a SACSCOC approved program, <https://www.sacscoc.org/>.

Bachelor's Degree
